Welcome to Royal Leerdam

The past two years have been challenging for us all. COVID-19 has clearly changed our lives forever. It is through our loyal and valued customers, our resilience, perseverance and passion that we were able to cope with the massive disruptions from COVID -19. We are truly proud of this!

We used this challenging time to hold a mirror up to ourselves to discover what Royal Leerdam really is about. We didn't stand still and saw the opportunity to adapt our product range to accommodate the changing consumer needs. More than ever, we recognize the value of staying relevant in changing times and the importance of studying these changes and trends in the retail landscape.

One topic that we have prioritized on our agenda is: Sustainability. Although recycling has always been at the heart of our business, we recognize that sustainability should play a central part of our business strategy. Therefore, Royal Leerdam (part of Libbey) has been crafting a new sustainable agenda. In the chapter 'We care for sustainability' you can learn more about this topic.

This catalogue will guide you through our retail collection. We hope to inspire and amaze you with our great products, concepts and packaging design. There is plenty to discover, check out the new Home Essentials collection: a range of trendy and accessible homeware products made of glass. ## We care for sustainability

Sustainability becomes more and more important. It has become an increasingly crucial factor in purchasing decisions. Therefore, Royal Leerdam (part of Libbey) has been crafting a new sustainable agenda.

Recycling has always been at the heart of our business. We aim to produce our 100% recyclable glass products with zero impact on the environment, assuring that the next generations are able to live in a better world. We do this by applying sustainable processes throughout the organization and supporting social, economic and cultural progress in the communities where we live and work. By being a socially responsible corporate organization, we drive sustainability efforts together with our stakeholders and other companies to address the United Nations Sustainable Development Goals.

What we can be proud of:

- Our products are 100% recyclable without loss of quality.
- Our glass is 100% food-safe and it is not harmful to the environment.
- We collect and re-use the glass in our factories so that each new glass starts with 20% to 50% of pre-consumer recycled glass.
- The OPTIMELT furnace installation in our Dutch production unit reduced energy & CO<sub>2</sub> by the glass melting process up to 45%, with up to 75% less NO<sub>x</sub> released to the atmosphere.
- Our packaging material is made of 80% to 95% recycled cardboard.
- We support a sheltered employment organization for people with disabilities.
- As a SEDEX member, we are involved in many social and ethical audits for different customers.
- We celebrate diversity, racial equality and social justice.
- We embrace the responsibility of social progress by supporting a broad range of organizations through monetary and in-kind product donations.
- We work with a young start-up that gives a second life to used wine bottles, creating sustainable products for the end-consumer. Embracing circular economy.
- In our Portuguese production unit, we cooperate closely with national environmental and waste entities to promote recycling.
- The way to a greener future starts from within. Let's pave the way together!

Decanters, Carafes and Bottles

This chapter shows a variety of decanters, carafes and bottles. Decanters are specifically used to hold wine and the primary function is to store and serve wine and allow the wine to breathe. Whereas carafes are used more commonly to hold any kind of liquid ranging from water, juice and wine. The shape of a carafe doesn't change the taste of its contents. Discover our extensive range of carafes, some of them combined in a pretty combination box with matching tumblers and/or with a cork lid.

Staying hydrated is the key to a healthy lifestyle and the Royal Leerdam Hydration bottle 2 Go is designed for that purpose. It is the sustainable and hygienic choice in comparison to plastic bottles. Discover the full range with cheerful colors.
